1. This opinion contains indications relating to the following items:

- Box No. I Basis of the opinion
- Box No. II Priority
- Box No. III Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability
- Box No. IV Lack of unity of invention
- Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement
- Box No. VI Certain documents cited
- Box No. VII Certain defects in the international application
- Box No. VIII Certain observations on the international application

2. FURTHER ACTION

If a demand for international preliminary examination is made, this opinion will be considered to be a written opinion of the International Preliminary Examining Authority ("IPEA") except that this does not apply where the applicant chooses an Authority other than this one to be the IPEA and the chosen IPEA has notified the International Bureau under Rule 66.1bis(b) that written opinions of this International Searching Authority will not be so considered.

If this opinion is, as provided above, considered to be a written opinion of the IPEA, the applicant is invited to submit to the IPEA a written reply together, where appropriate, with amendments, before the expiration of 3 months from the date of mailing of Form PCT/ISA/220 or before the expiration of 22 months from the priority date, whichever expires later.

For further options, see Form PCT/ISA/220.

3. For further details, see notes to Form PCT/ISA/220.

a polymer having a hydrolysable silyl group, a compound having a fluorine ion acting as a hardening accelerator is well known.

Because the invention as in claims 33 and 34 is disclosed in documents 1 and 2, it is not novel and does not involve an inventive step. Documents 1 and 2 disclose that the hardening composition is suited for adhesives and sealing materials.

Because the invention as in claims 1-3, 10, 11 and 27-32 is disclosed in document 4 cited in the ISR, it is not novel and does not involve an inventive step. Document 4 discloses a hardening composition polymer comprising a hydrolysable silyl group and a fluoride, and no difference is found from the invention as in claims 1-3, 10, 11 and 27-32 in its constitution as a composition.

The invention as in claims 4-9, 12-26 and 35-38 is not disclosed in any of the documents cited in the ISR and would not be obvious to a person skilled in the art.
