Box No. II Observations where certain claims were found unsearchable (Continuation of item 2 of first sheet)

This international search report has not been established in respect of certain claims under Article 17(2)(a) for the following reasons:

1.  Claims Nos.:
because they relate to subject matter not required to be searched by this Authority, namely:

2.  Claims Nos.:
because they relate to parts of the international application that do not comply with the prescribed requirements to such an extent that no meaningful international search can be carried out, specifically:

3.  Claims Nos.:
because they are dependent claims and are not drafted in accordance with the second and third sentences of Rule 6.4(a).

Box No. III Observations where unity of invention is lacking (Continuation of item 3 of first sheet)

This International Searching Authority found multiple inventions in this international application, as follows:
See extra sheet.

1.  As all required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant, this international search report covers all searchable claims.
2.  As all searchable claims could be searched without effort justifying additional fees, this Authority did not invite payment of additional fees.
3.  As only some of the required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant, this international search report covers only those claims for which fees were paid, specifically claims Nos.:
4.  No required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant. Consequently, this international search report is restricted to the invention first mentioned in the claims; it is covered by claims Nos.:
Group I: Claims 1-7, 15-20

- Remark on Protest
- The additional search fees were accompanied by the applicant's protest and, where applicable, the payment of a protest fee.
- The additional search fees were accompanied by the applicant's protest but the applicable protest fee was not paid within the time limit specified in the invitation.
- No protest accompanied the payment of additional search fees.

INTERNATIONAL SEARCH REPORT

International application No.

PCT/US18/45238

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1. In order for all inventions to be examined, the appropriate additional examination fee must be paid.

Group I: Claims 1-7 and 15-20 are directed towards a method and a computer-readable storage medium for generating a 3D map of a storage area based on package weight and contents.

Group II: Claims 8-14 are directed towards an augmented reality device having a transparent display with an inner surface and an outer surface.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The special technical features of Group I include at least a method and a computer-readable storage medium comprising: generating a three-dimensional map of the storage area; identifying next package content, and a next package weight; determining a storage location based on: the next package content; the next package dimensions; the next package weight; the package content of each of the plurality of packages; the package weight of each of the plurality of packages; and package placement rules, which are not present in Group II.

The special technical features of Group II include at least an augmented reality device comprising: a transparent display having an inner surface and an outer surface; receiving, from a server, physical package dimensions; identifying a current location of the augmented reality device; generating augmented view data based on the current location and the current view, wherein the augmented view data enables a virtual package to illustrate how the physical package should be placed within the storage location, which are not present in Group I.

The common technical features shared by Groups I and II are a processor; storage; an augmented reality device; a storage location corresponding to a package; package dimensions of a particular package; the augmented reality device providing a view of the storage area with a virtual package in the storage location, the virtual package having corresponding package dimensions.

However, these common features are previously disclosed by US 9,595,115 B1 (CEDERLOF). Cederlof discloses a processor (a computing device includes a processor and a memory; column 4, lines 22-24); storage (a computing device includes a processor and a memory; column 4, lines 22-24); an augmented reality device (the computing device is located within an augmented reality functional node/ARFN (device); column 4, lines 20-24); a storage location corresponding to a package (the current location data of the object in the room (storage location) is provided; column 3, lines 20, 21; column 20, lines 53-55); package dimensions of a particular package (a size of the object may be stored in the object data-store; column 10, lines 61, 62); the augmented reality device providing a view of the storage area with a virtual package in the storage location, the virtual package having corresponding package dimensions (the augmented reality module of the ARFN (device) may provide prompts via a computer generated scene/room (view of the storage area) instructing a deliver person to place the table in the particular location based on a rendering/projection (virtual package) of the table made using table attributes, including dimensions, received by the data-store in the augmented reality functional node/ARFN; column 2, lines 37-41; column 3, line 1, column 4, lines 1-5; column 5, lines 1-3; column 5, lines 8-10; column 20, lines 3-6).

Since the common technical features are previously disclosed by the Cederlof reference, these common features are not special and so Groups I and II lack unity.
